Don't say anything

THE SIBYL'S CURE. ^{BF 1874} ^{.54}

For love—be you sure
There is but one cure.

Yourself, then, resign
To marry, or pine!

This grave operation
Requires consultation.

The Sugar and Spice
Will make the cure nice.

The pain in the heart
Will quickly depart.

I'd fain say the same
Of every pain

That ruffles the temper
Or maddens the brain;

That makes the eye dim
Or cripples a limb;

That mars all your beauty,
And pleasure and duty.

Why this should be so
Is a puzzle to know.

If you take my advice,
You'll be well in a thrice.

Away with your lotions,
And villainous potions—

And, if you have sense,
Spend a very few pence

To make your ills fewer
With "Wells' Health Renewer."

F.I.C. Dec. 8/16.

LEAVES OF DESTINY.

DIRECTIONS FOR CONSULTING THE SIBYL:—Draw for a number from slips numbered from 1 to 100, and see corresponding number in Leaves of Destiny.

1. You'll meet this year on Brighton Strand,
One destined for your heart and hand.
2. Choose one—if you are shrewd,
No safety lies in multitude.
3. Endless flirtation
Doth seem your vocation.
4. Bracing air and embracing arms,
Give Coney Island especial charms.
5. Young or Old? Love or Gold?
Hot or Cold? Given or Sold?
Toss odd or even—you'll be told.

BASE BALL SEASON.

A man in Chester county, Pa., has paid $125 and costs of prosecution for thrashing a lawyer in his office, but he says the amusement was worth every cent of it.

A malicious story is afloat to the effect that a Meriden girl went back on her lover because he was so bow-legged she could not sit on his lap.

Emma Abbott carries a dagger on the stage that is worth $16,500. This dagger on the stage is exceeded only by the lie off the stage.

It is said that figures won't lie; but the figures of some women are very deceptive, to say the least.

7. For music and balls,
You'll have nursery squalls.

9. Away with pride and cold disdain,
Or you'll too long a maid remain.

But—"Choose one, look at the rest."
11. 'Tis simply true, tho' now you may laugh,
That you will worship a golden calf.
12. This year a lover will with pride,
Watch thee sporting in the tide.

"THE FINISH."—JEROME PARK.

When a man dies suddenly "without the aid of a physician," as an Irishman once said, the coroner must be called in. If a man dies regularly after being treated by a doctor, everybody knows why he died, and the coroner's inquest is not necessary.

We have just received a sample copy of a new song, entitled "Put your arms around me, dear." Any lady who desires to try it, can do so by calling at our office after business hours—we mean the song.

"Union is not always strength," as Sir Charles Napier said, when he saw the purser mixing his rum and water.

"THE ASCENT."—CATSKILLS.

They say when Bismarck greeted Grant, he smiled one of those fatherland grins, held out his hand and exclaimed: "Vegates, sheneral? I vas overcome mit gladness by myself to see you; sit mit yourself down. Adolph, two beers, right away, quick, so helup you gracious!"

"What I'd like to know," said a school-boy, "Is how the mouths of rivers can be so much larger than their heads." The boy has evidently not yet seen much of our congressmen.

The supper was laid on a table trim
 When out comes, roaring, my young son, Jim,
 "Oh! daddy, the rats! A dozen or two,
 Are gobbling the supper, and baby too."
 My wife, with a scream, seized iron and broom,
 I clutched a bottle, and made for the room.
 Never was heard such a hullabaloo!
 It woke up the cat, and terrier too.
 The terrier thought we were hunting the cat,
 Got a grip of her tail, as she went for the rat.

Jim, with his hatchet, tumbled over a pail,
 And tried to hold terrier back by the tail.
 I caught Jim by the wool, but rather too late—
 The table received such a bump from his pate
 That teapot, plates, lamp, chairs, baby and all,
 Were upset on the floor, 'mid crash and squall.
 The people about shouted "Murder! Fire!"
 And the Police rushed in the cause to inquire;
 They'd listen to nothing we wanted to state.
 But to the next station lugged me off straight.

Swore I was drunk—nearly murdered my wife,
 And of my poor infant endangered the life,
 Broke tables, chairs, and the crockery ware;
 When the Justice said, "What a savage old bear!"
 Not heeding a word my poor wife did swear.
 Imprisoned and fined, I cursed my sad fate,
 When lately I learned, but rather too late,
 Instead of depending on traps, dogs or cats,
 My only protection was "Rough on Rats."

19. The "Mighty Dollar" cannot buy
The love for which in vain you sigh.
20. Look in the glass and you will see
Your source of power and frailty.
21. A well known line you may transpose—
"A thorn is always near a rose."
22. You nobly strive to make it known
"Tis bad for man to be alone."
23. Before the present year is out,
Your wedding cards will be about.
24. Drifting away, day by day!
No one to say, "Stay! oh stay!"
25. A heartless flirt; you'll penance do
For all the innocents you slew.

BRAIN-NERVE.

Nervousness is the sense of feebleness, or lack of stability of the nervous system as distinguished from the rest of the body. The number of those in the middle or higher classes of society who, without being ever actually sick, never know what full, rejoicing health really is—who live constantly in a lower plane of being than is normal in man, who are weak all over, though not specially and constantly weak in any one organ, and who, though they may never experience piercing and grinding pain, yet suffer at times, if not always, that profound exhaustion which in many respects is far worse than pain—is very large, and is or has been apparently increasing.

For this condition there is no remedy or treatment so admirably adapted as WELLS' HEALTH RENEWER. The evidence, daily adduced, from the thousands who have and are using it, bear testimony to its remarkable powers as a brain, nerve, vital and physical rejuvenator.

It may be had through all druggists at $1.00 per bottle, or a bottle sent by express to any address on receipt of $1.00; 6 bottles $5.00.

NIGHT SWEATS ARE a sign of Weakness, Decline, Wasting, Debility in some form; may arise from excesses, too much drinking, tendency to CONSUMPTION or over-mental or physical exertion, &c. Whatever the cause they are dangerous, a sure sign of utter breaking down.

Drawing Lesson No. 26.

THE “SEASIDE SIBYL” ON THE BEACH.

An Indianapolis cat got to playing with a small turtle the other day, and was having a nice time tumbling it around, when suddenly the turtle's jaws closed on the cat's tail. There was some very lively tumbling then on the part of the cat, to an accompaniment of her own selection. Two hours after she was seen examining that tail tenderly, evidently wondering if the piece would grow out again.

“What are the churches doing for humanity?” asked Brother Talmage. Funny he does not know; they're getting up fairs.

Tailor measuring fat customer—
“Would you hold the end, sir, while I go around!”

LECTURE ON "ROUGH ON RATS."—"This is what killed your poor father. Shun it. Avoid anything containing it throughout your future useful(?) careers. We older heads object to its especial 'Rough' ness."

89. Tennis, polo, bathing, boating—
Picnic, music, flirting, doting—
These your pastimes best worth noting!
90. When vanities bring weariness,
You'll seek a rural wilderness—
Meet penance for your wickedness!
91. Unless you're a Mormon, or Turk,
Contented you'll be with this year's work.
92. Your seaside dreams of love and money
Will end in country milk and honey.
93. How sweet to thee is love's young dream
When gliding down the placid stream.
94. Dear captive feet are now set free
To skip and dance right merrily,
As winter stealeth o'er the sea.

"THE BATH."--OSPREY BEACH.

"There's a letter in the candle," is the title of a new song. It's a pretty production, but yet we can't help thinking that if the letter stays there long it's going to get scorched so that no one can read it.

Noisy little boys in Cincinnati are told that right in the centre of the hind hoofs of every live mule there is a little lump of gold, which can be easily dug out with a penknife.

There's one pleasant thing about house cleaning. A man can straddle himself out in the parlor for a day or two and spit on the floor without spoiling a Brussels carpet.

Drawing Lesson No. 29.

95. You'll meet many cranks at the seaside
this year—
It must be the Comet that made them so queer.
96. You'll have in place of dance hall skips
Holy greetings from brethren's lips—
Prayer meetings: good fellowships.
97. The happy day is drawing nigh—
To all your pains and cares good-bye!
98. The summer dies, and birds of prey
To city haunts now fly away.
99. You're leaving now to meet no more
The only one you could adore.
100. To young and old I bid farewell,
And will next year their fortunes tell.

"THE PLACE WHERE THE GOOD FOLKS GO."—OCEAN GROVE.

The time for a man to stand firmly by Job's example is when he washes his face with home-made soap and begins to paw around over the chairs with his eyes shut, inquiring for a towel, quick, and is told that the towel is in the drawer, but the keys are lost.

A Mexican girl living at Tusceolo has three well developed arms. She can do up her hair without cramming her mouth full of hairpins.

Nothing does a doctor so much good as to prescribe an ocean voyage for a sick man who can't raise enough money to pay his street car fare down town.
